Our website provides you general information about a variety of topics related to us, our services, wellness, and health. The website does not provide advice on how you should handle specific issues for which you may wish to find answers. The website does not provide medical advice.

If you believe that you need medical advice or services please contact a physician of your choice.

If you wish to consult with us on specific issues, please schedule an appointment through our website or by contacting us by telephone or other means. This is the only way that we are able to provide you information about, or services for, specific issues that concern you.

There are two types of information that our website provides you. The first type is information about us and the services that we provide. This is general information about us that we hope will help you feel comfortable in contacting us for services on specific issues. It does not tell you how issues that concern you should be resolved.

The second type of information is general information about wellness and other health topics that we have found interesting. We also provide links for you to purchase publications on such topics from other websites and links to other website discussing such topics. Many of the articles and publications are authored by persons other than our staff. By making such information available, we do not endorse or recommend it to you. In fact, we, and members of our staff, may disagree with all or part of the information, or with other information published by third party authors. Also, by making the information available, we do not endorse or recommend it as the answer to any issue that concerns you.

We are not responsible for harm, injury, damages, costs, expenses or other liability relating to your use of any information in any way relating to our website to resolve issues that you face without an in-person consultation with us at our facilities. You assume all responsibility for all such harm, injury, damages, costs, expenses, and other liability.

Finally, while we have certain protections in place, we do not warrant or guarantee that downloads or items from our website will be safe or free from harmful codes that may have been delivered to us without our consent. We are not responsible for any damages, costs, expenses or other liability relating to harmful codes. You are responsible for all such damages, costs, expenses, and other liability
